In Trust With The Gospel

Elder Keith Ellis

You Can Not Untruth

Be careful what you pray for. If you ask God for understanding of truth and He grants it, you cannot become untruth-ed. You are now responsible to handle that truth in a righteous manner.

And if you do the right thing and are faithful to believe, speak, and live that truth, you will loose friends, people will turn their backs on you, and you will become hated, even by those professing to be Christ like. To say The least.

On the other hand , holding truth in unrighteousness (not living or professing it) brings a severe penalty.

There are worse things in life than loosing social acceptance. The reward of holding the truth in unrighteousness would be one I suspect. Don't go there friends. Pleasing The Lord (not men) is what it is all about.
