Three Hundred – Faith

There is a very strong correlation in the scriptures between the number 300 and the subject of faith. This correlation is so strong that the words faith and its derivatives, faithful, faithfully, and faithfulness occur exactly 300 times in the King James translation of the New Testament. In addition, the words, believe and its derivatives, belief, believeth, believing, and believer occur exactly 300 times in the scriptures. There are between 30 and 40 writers of the Old and New Testaments whose writings spanned about a thousand years. There is no way they could have collaborated together to come out with such statistics. This was by the leadership of the Holy Spirit that such a correlation has been made even to the number of times the words appear in the scriptures.

We will consider several examples of the appearance of the number three hundred and its corresponding aspects of the subject of faith. We will look at Enoch, the ark, Joseph's gift to Benjamin, Gideon and the three hundred, and the shields of Solomon. We will also look at feigned or counterfeit faith and its correlation to the number 300 as well.
